- SARJANA - In the academic year 2022-23 college cultural forum Sarjana organized 22 competitions in various categories. The theme for this year's competitions was 'Reigning with Smile'. This year Sarjana included few new-age competitions such as Stand-up Comedy, Logo making, Documentary film, Music Composition, Business Planning, Picture-Story Narration, Zero Waste along with traditional ones such as Mehandi, Rangoli-making, Dance, Singing, Debate, Turn coat, Elocution, Poetry-recitation, GK quiz, Essay -writing , Theatre, etc.

Topics/theme for competitions covered a wide range of subjects, i.e. Developing Kashi, NEP 2020, Re-writing of History, Urban stress, Freedom & Discipline, Confusion & Excellence, Decay of libraries, Importance of philosophers in the society, E- commerce, Climate change, Eco- tourism etc. Entries for different competitions were collected through online forms and feedback was also taken from students regarding their experience of Sarjana-2023. We tried to analyze the data received through these forms through which following observations were made-

* A gap was seen among those who initially filled online participation form and those who actually turned-up as participants. It shows lack of preparedness and casual attitude for co-curricular activities.

* Lack of imagination, creative and critical thinking is evident.

* Lack of humour and healthy comedy indicates increased level of stress and poor coping mechanism at individual level.

* Creative performing arts (theatre activities) are not being taken up as serious affair.

* Habit of debating needs to be promoted for analytical thinking.

On the management side, three student coordinators and a team of 70 volunteers divided into six subcommittees were constituted to facilitate the whole event. In different categories, 30 first, 32 second, 30 third and 25 consolation prizes were bagged by students for different competitions.

Intenational Literacy Day

Celebrating International Literacy Day is crucial as it raises awareness about the significance of literacy in empowering individuals and communities. It highlights the transformative power of education in tackling social issues and fostering sustainable development. By promoting literacy, we can enhance opportunities for lifelong learning, economic growth, and social inclusion. International Literacy Day serves as a reminder to prioritize literacy as a fundamental human right and a catalyst for positive change. It encourages collective efforts to ensure access to quality education for all, promoting a more equitable and prosperous world.

Highlights: The program commenced with an inspiring opening address by Prof. Rachna Srivastava, Principal of VKM. Prof. Srivastava emphasized that value education is a fundamental component of the NEP, as it goes beyond academic knowledge and aims to instill moral values, ethics, and character-building in students. She emphasized that value education is essential to nurture responsible citizens who contribute positively to society

The keynote speaker, Shri Ramashish Singh, delved into the various dimensions of education, with a specific focus on the importance of value education in the NEP. He shed light on the challenges posed by the commercialization of education and how it can hinder the integration of values into the educational system. Shri Singh highlighted that value education is a cornerstone in making education meaningful and relevant to students' lives. Shri Singh further emphasized that value education, as envisioned in the NEP, aims to develop students who possess not only knowledge but also strong moral and ethical foundations. He stressed the need to bridge the gap between acquiring knowledge and applying it in real-life situations. By integrating value education into the curriculum, he stated students can develop a sense of responsibility, empathy, and integrity, making them valuable contributors to society.

Students have also organized various cultural programs on the occasion of International Literacy Day, adding vibrancy to the celebration. These cultural events showcase the diverse talents and artistic expressions of the students, while emphasizing the importance of literacy and education. Through music, drama, and other artistic forms, students creatively convey the message of literacy and its transformative power. These cultural programs provide a platform for students to engage with the community and inspire others to embrace the joy of learning and reading.
